Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Tuesday 05 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Wintry showers in the east, clearer in the west.

This Evening and Tonight:
Into the night the west coast looks to remain clear and dry. However, wintry showers continue to the east. Feeling cold with significant wind chill, widespread frost, some isolated freezing fog patches and a risk of ice too. Minimum temperature -4 deg C (25 deg F).

Wednesday:
Scattered locally wintry showers will gradually ease in the east, leaving many with a dry day. Remaining cold despite the sunny spells, with light winds. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Cloud increases from the northwest bringing some rain and snow Thursday. Thereafter it looks largely dry with sunny spells. Cold with some lingering frost, and patchy freezing fog in places.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.